It is greatly preferable to read the megillah yourself or hear it read in person from a kosher scroll. However, it is essential that no-one attends a reading in person who feels unwell and that all government and US guidelines are adhered to strictly. As such, if one is unable to read for oneself or safely attend a reading in person, one may rely on the minority view that allows one to hear a live reading via the internet. All our megillah readings will be available at Shul and by Zoom; Brian's only by Zoom.
